Day 26 – Go All the Way

Is it safe to go with Jesus, even if He takes us outside our comfort zone? Or will we miss out on things if we obey Him 100%? Do we think it's safer to be in the boat without Jesus or to be with Him on the water in the middle of the storm? How much do we truly trust in His leadership?

If He's calling us to the mountains, are we going to go or are we going to resist and try to stay in the shade of the fruit tree? Even in our weakness and resistance, God doesn't wave a rod in our faces, threatening us with a last chance and demanding us to be on that mountain. Even in our weakness and in our failure, He still calls us beautiful and lovely if we struggle when our hearts want to follow Him. But the thing is God wants something greater for us. That's why He's calling us to the mountains because even though it might seem great now in the shade of the fruit tree, He knows that in time our heart will go grow cold there. If we aren't moving forward, we're moving back. There's no staying where we are. That's the trap many believers get into. They love where they're at and they don't strive for the next thing that God wants to take them through and in time they're mystified because they're relationship with Him becomes dull and they start to have spiritual boredom. The Lord doesn't love us less and He doesn't start to enjoy us less but we start to enjoy the relationship less. When He beckons us to a new level of responsiveness and we don't answer with yes, after time our heart start to become dull. We get bored because we refused to keep going forward.

God is telling us, the harvest is right around the corner! You are moments away from maturity in the areas you needed to grow in. Do not draw back now. Look back. In the winter seasons I was with you. In this season, go all the way with Me.
