Authority Over the Nation by Francis Frangipane

Continuation

For those who desire to walk godly, the Jezebel attack comes on two main fronts, sexual and witchcraft. These powers work together to increase vulnerability and ultimate defeat. I know too many men and women who yielded just a little only to increasingly find themselves captured in the worst of sins.

"With her many persuasions she entices with her flattering lips she seduces her feet go down to death, her steps take hold of Sheol" (Proverbs 7:21, 5:5).

How can we have peace when Jezebel is legally protected in our nation?

"She is now in the streets, now in the squares, and lurks by every corner" (Proverbs 7:12).

Our public schools have become like the very gates of hell. We need a national revival of righteousness! And, as we fight the good fight, we must never drop the cross Christ calls us to daily carry, denying self the momentary pleasures of sin.

Solomon discerned this spirit. He exposed its methodologies and wrote warnings that actually became Scripture! Yet, just having a doctrine about Jezebel isn't enough. Indeed, Solomon, while knowing the truth, still fell to the seductions of this spirit. What drives a man to have "seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines." These were ungodly women who "turned away his heart [from God]" (1 Kings 11:3). Seven hundred wives! Solomon was so totally overwhelmed by the unquenchable seductions of Jezebel. His life was given to "acts of immorality." They brought him into a relationship with false gods, where he bowed "to idols" - the very evidence Jesus ascribes to the spirit of Jezebel (Revelation 2:20)!
