Embracing the Lover's Coming (Part 2)

“Can you not discern this new day of destiny breaking forth around you?
The early signs of my purposes and plans are bursting forth.
The budding vines of new life are now blooming everywhere.
The fragrance of their flowers whispers,
There is change in the air.”
Arise, my love, my beautiful companion, and run with me to the higher place.
For now is the time to arise and come away with me.

For you are my dove, hidden in the split-open rock.
It was I who took you and hid you up high in the secret stairway of the sky.
Let me see your radiant face and hear your sweet voice.
How beautiful your eyes of worship and lovely your voice in prayer.

You must catch the troubling foxes, those sly little foxes that hinder our relationship.
For they raid our budding vineyard of love to ruin what I've planted within you.
Will you catch them and remove them for me?
We will do it together.

I know my lover is mine and I have everything in you, for we delight ourselves in each other.

But until the day springs to life and the shifting shadows of fear disappear, turn around, my lover, and ascend to the holy mountains of separation without me.
Until the new day fully dawns, run on ahead like the graceful gazelle and skip like the young stag over the mountains of separation.
Go on ahead to the mountain of spices— I'll come away another time.”
Song of Songs 2:13-17 TPT

Prayer:

Yes, let me respond to all your love. I will come away with you! I will follow you! I will climb the mountain of spices into the mountain of separation now, not another day.
